

Validate Binary Tree

Create a function called `validate` that receives a Node as an argument (Initially the head of a tree). This function should validate if the left child of each node is greater than its parent and the right child is greater than its parent. return true if it is a valid tree, otherwise false.

```
```markdown
```

```
```markdown
```

